Dear Retail Partner,

Thank you for taking a moment to learn about Lavender Fields at Pumpkin Blossom Farm. We're a family-run lavender farm in New Hampshire with one mission at heart: to share the calming power of nature, from our field to your customers.

Every product we create begins in our lavender fields, where each plant is nurtured with care and a little bit of New England grit. From there, we handcraft soothing self-care essentials, enchanting culinary treats, and thoughtful gifts designed to help people unwind, feel comforted, and enjoy the simple beauty of everyday life.

We believe that what sits on your shelves should carry meaning. Our farm is also a space of healing and connection. It's a peaceful sanctuary for those seeking stress relief, solace, or just a moment to breathe. When your customers choose our products, they are supporting that purpose.

We would be honored to partner with you and help bring a sense of calm to your shoppers. You'll find our current offerings and wholesale details in the pages ahead. If you'd like guidance on best-sellers for your type of store or seasonal recommendations, we're always happy to help.

Thank you again for considering Lavender Fields at Pumpkin Blossom Farm. We're excited for the potential to grow something wonderful together.

Warmly,

Graham Biagiotti
